Moving update

I am now COMPLETELY MOVED back to the hills.. In only three weeks and by myself with the exception of a few hours help from family.. This is a VERY positive pushing the reset button.

So many reasons I had to take this step My gut feeling is there wont be an easy window of opportunity to make a move like this later on in the year..

The new place / old place is feeling different this time. Seems everything is working here this time.. I intend to rebuild the monitor array like I had in Durham only better. I WILL be doing video in the months ahead and this time with proper lighting.

Crazy like a fox
<http://www.birdclan.org/fox.htm>

If Fox has chosen to share its medicine with you, it is a sign that you are to become like the wind, which is unseen yet is about to weave into and through any location or situation. You would be wise to observe the acts of others rather than their words at this time. Use your cunning nature in a positive way; keep silent about who and what and why you are observing.

As long time readers know I pay attention to what nature is telling me.. Sort of an American Indian thing. One of the first full days I spent here a few weeks ago I saw a fox run down the lane in front of the house. I took note and felt my move was confirmed.. Then a few days ago Mr fox showed up only about 50 feet away in my driveway and barked at me like a dog for a full minute.. He made his point.

This here is a good enough reason to sit the next few months or longer out as far as seeking much exposure. Anyone who dares to see what is going on and is willing to say what he sees is being attacked. All I can say is where there is smoke there is fire and the level of PC hyper sensitivity to a particular subject tells us something about validity of the conspiratorial nature of what was written. I ask you to keep tabs on Mr Taibbi's career from now on as well.

<http://undertheradarmedia.wordpress.com/2009/07/16/rolling-stone-writer-called-anti-semitic-for-simply-following-the-money/>

I look at an article such as this one and it looks like fire to me. Please define terrorism..

<http://www.prisonplanet.com/paulson-threatened-great-depression-food-riots-to-get-bailout-bill-passed.html>

The fact that the entire purpose of the bailout was switched as soon as it was approved by Congress proves that Paulson's threat was nothing less than financial terrorism and a successful effort to blackmail Congress with hastily manufactured doomsday scenarios

The crash pattern has fully matured.

The decline since June 11th has taken the EXACT PATH that was present in both the 29 and 87 crash patterns coming off a high and then doing a retrace into the 28th trading day after the high.. The retrace since the low has come back to the 62% level ON TIME on July 16th.. Now we wait and see. Will markets be "allowed" to move down in a natural rhythm or will the puppet masters concoct a way to boost the market out of danger??

I have warned repeatedly about the way negations of such patterns have taken place with the most blatant being the April 16th 2007 breakout as news was spreading about the VT shooting before the open that day. So as of this weekend the setup is present for a very sharp drop into about month end. OR a negation of the pattern.. Mr Market will let you know in the next few days. If a decline begins on Monday the bottom would be due on or about the 35th trading day after the high.

Many months ago when I was looking at the gradient of a change from unfounded optimism (Jupiter Neptune conjunction) and the drop off into the 3rd Saturn Uranus opposition in mid September I suspected a crash was in the cards as the unfounded optimism is removed and the floor caves in over the next 6 - 10 weeks.

Personally I think it would be nice to see markets become functional again. I think a drop into the mid 700s would be HEALTHY and would alert the public that something is WRONG with the way things are being managed from upstairs.. If we see a Monday morning July 21 soaked in innocent blood again like on VT day and the market rises during the news blitz distraction I will rightfully conclude " here we go again". The last time a less perfect pattern like we have now occurred in May the "rally" above the old high lasted on a few days. Seems the patient is developing an increasingly high tolerance to manipulative medicine.

Watching what is going on the past few months with about every thing being Rhamed through CONgress being bad medicine I can conclude..

Either the people in power are inept to a point of absurdity..

OR

The people in power are part of a massive crime that has sold the USA short and the intention to take possession of any asset left after the inevitable bankruptcy to come.

The Daily Astro

The nasdaq made a higher high on Friday 6/17. This may be a tell that the Bear setup is in the process of breaking apart.. We will see. Nasdaq has a tendency to rise into an expiration day as the big techs are very active trading their own accts in the options game. The Dow and S&P are still VERY MUCH in the thick of no mans land with an air pocket below support at 875 and it will only be a day or two into this coming week we will know the if the outcome will be completion or negation. .

Saturday - Sunday 7/18 - 7/19

The main feature over the weekend will be Venus moving into a square to Saturn. Venus is VALUE and Saturn is restriction. Stress these two out and contraction of value is indicated. moon and Pluto will be opposed about 1 AM Monday morning. The crash wave if we are going to see one appears to be tipped off by Asian trading.

Monday 7/20

Venus and Saturn are about 1 degree from squared on the open. THIS IS A BEARISH ASPECT.. A solar eclipse is in play after the close on Tuesday. SOLAR ECLIPSES ARE ALMOST NEVER ON HIGHS.. Venus and Saturn will be less than 1/4 degree of exactly squared when the eclipse is exact SO THAT ASPECT IS GOING TO BE LASTING AT LEAST A MONTH.. . This certainly appears to be a bearish day as well as the 21st.

NOTE:

If there has been a break higher accompanied by a tragic event that kills many innocent people all bearish bets are off. as in many scenarios we have seen over the years a confluence of a technical tipping point and a tragic event CAN CAUSE A RALLY. With prices close enough as of the Friday close to move to a new high rather easily the astute trader will be needing to pay attention to what goes on Sunday and especially on Monday morning before the open.

Tuesday 7/21

Venus Saturn square exact mid day..

The solar eclipse will be exact just before 11:00 PM EDT

It is very difficult for me to imagine this is a day of rally.

Wednesday 7/22

Moon mercury conjunction in the afternoon. Expect an announcement to be high on the media attention meter.

Thursday 7/23

Moon will be opposed Jupiter and Neptune around the close.

A last day of false hopes? Or hopes being dashed? Certainly this has a bubble bursting potential. This seems to be related to the Moon Mercury the day before. I suspect this will be inflationary and thus if the equity market has not put the fear of god into bullish traders the BOND MARKET will be affected.

Friday 7/24

Moon square Mars mid morning.. An anger producer if nothing else. Moon Mars days tend to be fits and starts.. A short attention span market day..

Sun moves into a semi square to Saturn very late in the day.

Moon will conjunct Saturn after the close.. Cant say this looks bullish.

Saturday 7/25

Moon Venus Uranus T square exact to about 3 degrees on Saturday

Sunday 7/26

Venus moves into a 2 degree orb of squared to Uranus

The next few days are dominated by Venus Uranus stress.. Chaotic valuation changes..

The period between the 16th of July and the end of July is where the drop should be located and this astro falling where it does is fertile for that outcome.

Monday 7/27

Venus Uranus square 1 degree from exact

Tuesday 7/28

Venus Uranus square exact

Conclusion

The past week I have been driving and carrying boxes and have been less in the flow of the event stream than normal. If you had patience and waited to buy some out of the money puts late last week THAT GETS YOU A GOLD STAR in readership. That trade is NOT A SURE THING but it is a low risk / high reward trade. THAT IS WHAT I DO HERE. find those convergences of time and price and pattern located when the astro adds a kicker.

If we have a break above SPX 950 the crash ( inevitable eventually) will simply be put off down the timeline and with each negation can be expected to be WORSE in the longer run.. Hey how do you think we got into this mess anyway.

I will have a much better feel for the news and market data flow in the next few days as I get back up to full speed again. There is not much more to add we need to wait and observe and react accordingly.

Cheney's death squads

<http://revolutionarypolitics.com/?p=1700>

I am watching all the hoopla about the Office of Special Pplans and note that what they are willing to admit to is a war crime but has a gray area in a time of "war".. What may be intended is to stop the questions right there (nothing more to see.. move along) and go no further. Further into places like Bhuto' murder and the like.

I have been watching a long time.. I remember the death squads running rampant in Central America back in the Iran contra days.. This type thing is nothing new. what is new however is this time Americans are included as fair game on our own soil.

Nanny state news items

The committee's official summary of the bill says: "Authorizes a demonstration program to improve immunization coverage. Under this program, CDC will provide grants to states to improve immunization coverage of children, adolescents, and adults through the use of evidence-based interventions. States may use funds to implement interventions that are recommended by the Community Preventive Services Task Force, such as reminders or recalls for patients or providers, or home visits

The hate bill has been defanged at least for the time being. VERY SIGNIFICANT.. This has preserved the right of free speech except if it is a direct immanent incitement to violence. I wonder what those who hate our freedom are going to do about being thwarted AGAIN.

BOOMERS – WINTER IS COMING

<http://www.financialsense.com/editorials/quinn/2009/0713.html>

The archetypes always follow the same path. As an example, the Prophet archetype is always born during a High, comes of age during an Awakening, enters midlife during an Unraveling, and spends their elderhood during a Crisis.

The archetypes that comprise a human life cycle follow the same repetitive pattern throughout history and they show the same traits and attitudes as their preceding archetype. Strauss & Howe describe the archetypes as follows:

- A Prophet generation grows up as increasingly indulged post-Crisis children, comes of age as the narcissistic young crusaders of an Awakening, cultivates principle as moralistic mid-lifers, and emerges as wise elders guiding the next Crisis. (Boomers – indulged, narcissistic, moralistic, wise)
- A Nomad generation grows up as under-protected children during an Awakening, comes of age as alienated young adults of a post-Awakening world, mellows into pragmatic mid-life leaders during a Crisis, and ages into tough post-Crisis elders. (Generation X – abandoned, alienated, pragmatic, tough)
- A Hero generation grows up as increasingly protected post-Awakening children, comes of age as heroic young team workers of a Crisis, demonstrates hubris as energetic mid-lifers, and emerges as powerful elders attacked by the next Awakening. (Millennial – protected, heroic, hubristic, powerful)
- An Artist generation grows up as overprotected children during a Crisis, comes of age as the sensitive young adults of a post-Crisis world, breaks free as indecisive mid-life leaders during an Awakening, and ages into empathetic post-Awakening elders. (Homelanders – suffocated, sensitive, indecisive, empathetic)
